Inverse Condemnation Settlement

- NDOT will receive $950,000 to resolve an inverse condemnation case that has been in litigation since 2012
- This stems from a 2005 settlement of an eminent domain case previously filed by NDOT to acquire property needed for the Blue Diamond/I-15 Interchange project
- Because litigation centered primarily on the 2005 settlement agreement, the attorney's fees clause was triggered, allowing NDOT to see reimbursement for all its costs and attorney fees
